

Competition and Consumer Act - Gift Cards Reform Exemption Confirmation Statement

Changes to legislation covering Gift Cards from 1 November 2019 require gift cards to have an expiry date no sooner than 36 months from issue date, unless the card is supplied for one of the following list of exempted purposes
Gift Cards issued under an exemption category can continue to have a 12 month expiry from date of issue

If any or all of the gift cards you wish to purchase are for an exempted purpose, please use the check boxes below to indicate which exempted purposes apply. (Multiple selections can be made.)

- Gift card supplied for the purposes of employee reward schemes.
- Gift card supplied for the purposes of customer loyalty programs.
- Gift card supplied as part of a temporary marketing promotion to reward purchaser of goods or services in connection with that purchase.
- Gift card supplied (without sale or exchange) for a promotional purpose.
- Gift card supplied to a charity registered for the purpose of advancing social or public welfare.
- Gift card supplied to a local, state or commonwealth government agency or authority

NOTE! Some gift card buyers will require both 12 month and 36 month validity cards.

Registering an exemption does NOT necessarily need to cover ALL cards you use! You are able to purchase a mix of cards to meet your requirements.
